Nigerian Refinery Operations

The only refinery in Nigeria is in the East near Port Harcourt and is owned by the Nigerian Petroleum Refining Company in which the Federal and Regional Governments together hold a 50% interest. BP and Shell each hold a 25% interest. The 45,000 b/d refinery supplies nearly all local consumption requirements and exports minor amounts of fuel oil.

Regional consumption of products, nearly all of which came from this refinery, totalled 35,017,000 imperial gallons in February, 1967. Imports were less than 800,000 gallons. Consumption by region was as follows:

Lagos	43%
East	21
Mid-West	6
North	15
West	15
